ORDER FROM YOUR N.

To a remote section of Siam, zealously guarded by unconquered native tribes, comes the unwelcome Malcolm Scientific Expedition seeking knowledge of the ancient Scorpion Dynasty. Billy Batson, assistant to the radio expert, is the only one of the party who does not enter a forbidden chamber; as a result he is awarded the power to transform himself into a superman, "Captain Marvel," upon uttering the word "Shazam." Meanwhile, the scientists who have entered the sacred tomb have discovered "The Scorpion," a powerful gold weapon the potency of which is brought about by focussing five peculiar lenses. The scientists divide the lenses among themselves so that no one of them will have supernatural power.

A sinister gang, headed by a mysterious individual who calls himself "The Scorpion," embarks upon a campaign to steal the five lenses from the scientists so that their combined power will be sufficient to conquer the universe. They inflict various tribulations on the party, from which the members are inevitably rescued by Billy, in the guise of "Captain Marvel." As Marvel, he is invincible and able to overcome any danger. When the Scorpion's men attempt to kill him by means of a fiendishly contrived guillotine, the falling blade smashes to bits as it contacts his superhuman body. When a time bomb is placed in his plane, he becomes "Marvel" and glides safely through the air to the ground.

The expedition returns to America, but it is pursued by the sinister "Scorpion," who is obviously determined to leave no stone unturned in his ambition to attain world dominance. His malevolent influence is directed toward Betty, secretary of the expedition, when he learns that she is entrusted with many of the secrets of the party and undertakes various dangerous missions for them.

The Scorpion acquires all of the lenses but one, without which he is unable to focus the secret weapon. Naturally, he becomes more determined to acquire it, and will stop at nothing.

Billy has reason to believe that the Scorpion is in reality one of the scientists taking part in the Malcolm expedition. The Scorpion decides that it is very necessary to bring about his sudden death—a death so sudden that he will not have time to utter the magic word "Shazam" before it overtakes him. This is attempted; Billy is bound and gagged so that he cannot utter the word. He tricks the Scorpion into releasing the gag in order, as he pretends, to explain to him the secret of his invulnerability. Once released, he cries "Shazam" and becomes Captain Marvel. He is able to free himself and his friends and expose the Scorpion, once and for all, as Bentley himself, leader of the expedition.
